
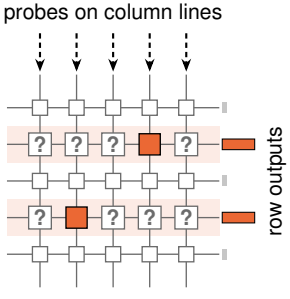
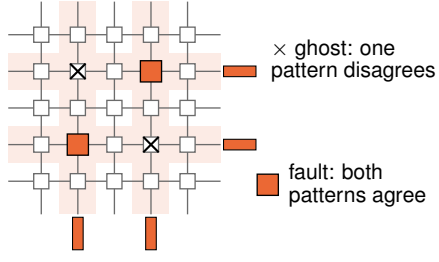
(a) Forward probes only. The output index names the column. The row hides in the probe pattern.



(b) Transposed probes only. The output index names the row. The column hides in the probe pattern.



(c) Joint decode. Row evidence and column evidence intersect. The pattern match rejects the ghosts.